

CAMBRIDGE JOURNAL OF ECONOMICS

Volume 31 Number 2 March 2007

- Flexible recession: the temporary staffing industry and mediated work in the United States
Jamie Peck and Nik Theodore 171
- Finance and politics: the wealth effects of special interest group influence during the nationalisation and privatisation of Conrail
James Ang and Carol Boyer 193
- The hypostasis of money: an economic point of view
Jean Cartelier 217
- On the social structure of markets
William A. Jackson 235
- Communicative action and the radical constitution: the Habermasian challenge to Hayek, Mises and their descendents
David L. Prychitko and Virgil Henry Storr 255
- Principles of Neo-Schumpeterian Economics
Horst Hanusch and Andreas Pyka 275
- On the application of mathematics to political economy'. The Edgeworth-Walras-Bortkiewicz controversy, 1889-1891
Roberto Marchionatti 291
- The Research Assessment Exercise, the state and the dominance of mainstream economics in British universities
Frederic S. Lee 309